The year is 2048, and civilization is crumbling. The wealthiest cannot afford to live and a new crime wave roams the streets. To the untrained eye, they look like any other teenager - an average Joe, one of the anonymous masses who swarm the cities that litter the surface of the Earth. But the ocean rises. New, mysterious diseases appear. A serial killer slaughters every seventh victim. In the depths of the sea, forgotten vaults come to light, warning of cataclysm to come. The Neon Tide sweeps in. As one of the population, you must fight to survive and guide the tide of humanity to a new dawn... Neon Tide Game Release: The game is out for Android and iOS. To get the game and soundtrack, check the links below: Android: iOS: Mod info: Not sure if I should make a section on this. I know there's a way to give mods the stats of other mods but I don't think I have that. I have the map file for the entire 2.8 universe. All the chunks make up the world and are located in the "doomed" folder of the "doonium" directory. It also comes with the option to save the current game state into a file. The file is named "current.idat" This mod can be installed by copying the.pk3 file into the "mods" folder of your "doom" directory and running the "update.pk3" and "replace.pk3" mods again to install the mod. This mod adds a haunted look to your spawn rooms, as well as a fireplace. It's a lot of work, and is my most popular mod. If you enjoy the mod, please check out my other mods. We're looking for people who would like to add music for the Neptune Tide concept! Dimmu52 did a fantastic job and really nailed the concept of the game, and my idea for the soundtrack. But we're going to be adding more sounds and music at some point, so we're looking for people to contribute their favourite music tracks
