Q: Android - How do i remove an action bar item if it has an empty menu? In my Android App I have a search view in the action bar. if the user enters something in the searchview I want to add the latest icons to the actionbar. However the problem is that there can be no icons, some apps has no icons but show a searchview. So now i am wondering how do I remove the action bar items? My first idea is to check the menu in the action item. `if(menu.getIcon() == 0){ removeView(menu); }` The question is if this is the correct way? and how can i get the menu of the action item? Thanks

A: Are you developing for SDK >= 21? If so, there is a new (unsupported) method:

getMenuPresenter(). All of the other methods appear to have been deprecated (and are only working on SDK 19-21) A: Yes it is correct way. A call to remove view does not add it again. Menu is not a view - it is a container for a set of views, for your action items. Thus, if your menu does not have any icons there is no action item visible and there is no need to remove it.

Genetic polymorphisms of CCR5 and CCR2 in severe periodontitis. The chemokine receptor CCR5 plays a key role in host innate and adaptive immune responses, especially in the recruitment of CCR5+ lymphocytes. Infection with CCR5-tropic HIV-1 may lead to severe pathological conditions such as periodontitis. We investigated the association of CCR5 and CCR2 genetic polymorphisms with periodontitis in Mexican mestizos. In a cross-sectional study, 98 unrelated patients with severe periodontitis and 93 healthy controls were selected. CCR5 delta 32 and CCR2 V64I polymorphisms were identified by polymerase chain reaction and restriction fragment

Aside from the fact that it's a lot like Gaeaforms, I think there's something really nice about the decoupage. It seems well-suited for our home. I'm intrigued by the fabric on the wallpaper. Is this ripped and either stained (and probably dyed) or painted? Is there a reason (unlikely) that they haven't used it in the new house? We've still got the pop of a mirror in our master bedroom. We removed it to take a full-time picture of what the room looked like before...and to use as a test for wallpaper in the baby's nursery. We also have a good amount of built-in shelves in the room.

Q: Should I update MVC 3 to MVC 4? Before I start: Yes I do know that I can just as easily upgrade MVC 3 to MVC 4 and move on with my life, but I want to hear everyone else's opinion (if there is even one other). As I understand it, MVC 3 and MVC 4 can both function together.
