This is part of a site that uses 1 product per page but the submenu item is showing on every page and I want to limit the number of submenu items on a page to just 1, ideally on the single product pages. I'm not clear if there's something I need to do with functions.php or simply remove or change the code or to add something to the.php file for the page. In short, we have multiple products each with their own submenu item. We have a single page showing all the products and they are paginated. I want to have that page show a single submenu item for the active product page but if there are no products, I don't want a submenu item at all. New Book: The Fuss About Our Forebears Can Wait Politics and American Life: A Social History of Our Times, from Nixon to the Present, by Kurt Bevacqua, Wiley, 2005. In the same spirit as Richard Hofstadter's The Paranoid Style in American Politics, Kurt Bevacqua's volume offers a sociological interpretation of America's political culture. According to Bevacqua, the United States is a nation whose politics reflect a deep-seated cultural disharmony. We are still fighting this war, and are quick to blame others for the struggles. This means that political disagreements can trace themselves back, often to family lines. He describes the American family as the key to understanding U.S. society.
