Hi I would like to add the serial number of my keyboard to the combobox for keyboard in my software. However after adding the serial number there is a bug in the combobox, as it does not show the serial number after the first one has been added. I have tried several keyboards without any success. I have a program that uses a serial number for a product. I can get the serial number from the USB on Windows 8.1. I want to get the serial number from the USB on windows 7. I think there's a way but don't know how.

but there doesn't seem to be a keyboard shortcut to open the start menu. you can use this for macros that are recorded. for example, you can put a macro in the ribbon and then record the ribbon. you can record the ribbon using the macro recorder, which is in the vba editor. hi, i am trying to create a user manual for a keyboard. i need to generate a serial number based on the part number. the part number can contain 3 characters, 1 digit, 1 letter, 1 digit, 1 letter, 1 digit, 1 letter, 1 digit. so the part number could be 12345, ab12, or aaab. i am using the below function, but it does not seem to work. i have an example below. the part number is 12345, and it should output 12345. my function does not work. if you want to count the number of characters

in a string, try the function =char(right(a1,find(" ",a1,1)-1)) if the string is longer than 10 characters, then the last number of characters is not counted. 5ec8ef588b
